INFO ON YOUTH CONFERENCES & ORGANIZATIONS

OVERVIEW Justin spends much of his time at National, State, Regional, and Local conferences. He is a perfect fit for FFA, FCCLA, DECA, 4-H, Student Council, FBLA, Key Club, MADD, SADD, SOSA, PALS, tobacco prevention, and many other organizations where leadership, motivation, success, and giving back to the community are important issues.

PROGRAM That's right. Dateable is becoming one of the most-requested programs for leadership conferences. Why? Well, I'm glad you asked, my little cyber-surfing friend.

Dateable: It's a Character Thing

TIME One of the biggest challenges leaders face today is that of personal interaction. Whether it's their own interactions or those of other team members, these relationships make or break an organization. You have seen it happen. Personal relationships are the one thing that you cannot avoid. And for the most part, no one ever tells you how to deal with the opposite sex... until now.

45-90 minutes

In this program, Justin takes you deep inside the mind and motivation of the opposite sex. Your brains will be freed and your secrets exposed as you learn the truth behind the confusion we call the opposite sex. In the end, your group, your organization, and your personal life will be stronger, more understanding, in a better position to achieve greatness, and ready to overcome relational challenges.

INFO ON PROGRAMS

YOUTH CONFERENCES & ORGANIZATIONS

PROGRAM While similar to the like-titled program for middle and high school students, this program is designed specifically for conferences.

TIME 45–50 minutes
Between the time he was a kid who couldn't read and write very well to the time he became a #1 bestselling, award-winning author, Justin learned what it takes to get out of the rut and into a life of unbelievable possibilities. From his own experiences, Justin shares specific strategies that will help you design your life. He will show the importance of attitude, the influence of character, and the impact of values. This program will set your participants on a journey towards a powerful life that will change them both individually and in community. Justin will give your group the tools to have an effective community and global impact.

PROGRAM This seminar pushes keynote programs to the EXTREME. Justin takes a twisted look at life, success, and achievement. He begins by looking at identity and purpose and then moving on to the biggest problem challenging today's youth: isolation. Justin will look at touchy issues and teach solid solutions. And he will show participants how their lives can make a difference. Points of discussion include committing to the process, listening to instruction, overcoming obstacles, and reaching out to others.
